CIVIL WAR BREAKS OUT IN BULGARIA

Floods Continue To Sweep The Neighboring States

Willard Saves Many Lives In Water Battle

PONCA CITY, Okla., June 13.—Big Jess Willard was victor in another terrific battle today. Not a contest in the roped arena facing a single opponent under glaring calcium lights; but struggling blindly in the darkness, surrounded by terror-stricken live stock, against raging waters of Salt Fork river which roared across the famous 101 Ranch near here during the last three days.

Willard, who arrived at the Miller ranch last Saturday, was to have given an exhibition of his "come-back," but the Salt Fork river intervened, turning the celebration site into a sea of water and shutting sand.

Torrential rains throughout Kansas during last week sent a wall of water rushing into Oklahoma. The Salt Fork river, usually a placid shallow channelled stream, surged down upon the 101 Ranch swilling about the ranch buildings early Sunday morning.

Women and children, families of the ranch hands, were marooned in their homes by the on-rushing waters, and taking death in the rising flood, according to Colonel Joe Miller.

Willard, a guest at the ranch, was one of the first into the water, carrying women and children to higher ground. No lives were lost," Miller told the United Press. "He worked from three o'clock Sunday morning until past midnight. After the women and children were safe, Joe turned his attention to the terror-stricken live stock, which were swimming frantically about their enclosures to escape drowning.

"In one instance," Miller declared, "there were several horses entangled in a barbed wire fence, slowly drowning. Joe went up close in a boat and he could not then slipped into the water and cut the horses free, enabling them to swim to safety."

"It took quick work frequently," Willard declared, "and there were many narrow escapes."

"What hurt me most of all," Willard told the United Press, "was to see the helpless horses and other livestock swimming about everywhere without being able to help them. They would swim close to the boats at times and their eyes would be so pleading that I was tempted many times to go after them, although it would have been futile," he declared solemnly.

Several thousand purebred hogs and many registered cattle and other livestock were swept away. Property damage and live stock loss is estimated at $500,000 by Colonel Miller.

Gave Wrong Envelop To Youts, And Is Now Short $31.50.

RANGER, Texas, June 11.—From now on Assistant Chief of Police Leonard Davenport won't be in such a hurry to rush people out of town, that is if past experiences mean anything to him.

Not so long ago he arrested two youths when he saw them trying to drive off in an automobile. He kept them in jail for the night and the next morning when one of the boys confessed they were taking the car without the owner's consent Davenport let them go after first exacting a promise that they would leave town immediately. Finding them broke, however, he sent them over to a cafe and bought them breakfast.

After they had gone he discovered an envelope which he thought had been taken from one of the youths the previous night. He rushed to the cafe and gave them the envelope and admonished them not to waste time in leaving the city.

Last night when he was checking up with the night sergeant he found a $31.50 shortage. After much search he found another envelope which was the

Hobart Students Out For Hazing Riots

Dr. Murray Bartlett

Two members of the senior class at Hobart College, Geneva, New York, were expelled by President Murray at the beginning of commencement exercises there. Degrees were withheld from three others for a period of three months. The students are alleged to have been implicated in the hazing and rioting which turned McGraw into a bedlam this month. Lloyd Hyde, of New York City, a victim of the hazing, was severely beaten and hurled down a fifty-foot embankment into Seneca Lake. Lawrence H. Loughrey and Theodore G. Knowles, football stars of New York, were those expelled.

Rum Running Treaty Is Proposed By U. S.

Washington, June 13.—The United States has proposed a treaty with foreign powers designed to prevent rum running into this country and settle objections of other powers to American rum regulations. It was learned from highest authority. The treaty would have two broad objects. It would extend the three mile limit of the sovereignty of the United States to twelve miles in connection with rum running.

It would permit foreign vessels of nations agreeing to the treaty to bring "ration" liquor under seal into American territorial limits for use on the homeward voyage.

Thursday, June 14, has been designated as "Coolidge-Carl Hill Day" at the ball park and the next day, Friday, June 15, will be "Teague-Geppert Royster Day."

This plan has been decided on by the management as a distinct tribute to the members of the squad from these neighboring towns.

The friends of the three are expected to attend the game in large numbers on the date mentioned.

Also, it has been suggested that Mexico business men may close their store on the day mentioned while the game is in progress, not only out of deference for the winning gushers but also as a matter of respect to the neighboring places and the members they have contributed to the local squad.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Secretary Work announced that eighteen reclamation projects in eleven western states, including Texas, would be surveyed with $225,000 appropriated by the last congress for that purpose. Projects on which work will be started immediately include a storage reservoir in the Pecos valley to provide water for use in the canals of Texas.

One he had taken from his "guests." The one he gave the boys contained the money.

Hurriedly he went to the rooming house where the lads had stayed but they had not waited for instructions.

Four Balkan States Call Troops To The Colors This Morning

LONDON, June 13.—Former Premier Stamboulsky of Bulgaria, was killed Tuesday by troops of the new Zankof Government, according to a central news dispatch from Vienna, quoting Sofia advices.

The report is unconfirmed. Soldiers of the new Government, which was established by a bloodless coup d'etat Saturday, surrounded the former peasant Premier in a forest at Slavoetsa and killed him after he had attempted resistance at the head of a handful of loyal followers, according to the central news.

Other dispatches say Stamboulsky's capture, alive is expected momentarily, while others describe with few details what is believed to be a serious counter-revolt.

Bulgaria is believed by officials here to be seething in initial stages of civil war, which a strict censorship prevents what correspondents have penetrated to the Capital, from describing. Only information favorable to the new Government comes direct from Sofia.

Dispatches from Vienna, Athens, and Belgrade still hint at any important counter-revolutionary success by hill tribesmen who were reported yesterday to have pushed close to Sofia, (one unconfirmed report said they had entered the Capital and were conducting a reign of terror).

ATHENS, June 13.—Four Balkan States called troops to the colors today and rushed reinforcements to their borders.

Urgent measures were instituted to prevent the Bulgarian revolt and counter-revolt from spreading.

Mobilization of thousands of fresh troops and extension of civil war, reported from Sofia, caused alarm in Belgrade, Bucharest, Athens and Prague.

In Budapest the Hungarian Capital, on the other hand, it was reported that news of the trouble in Bulgaria had been greeted with rejoicing, and that secret mobilization of three classes had taken place.

Greece today instituted war-time measures to reinforce the Greek-Bulgarian frontier.

Jugo-Slavia called up a thousand Serbian reserve officers and hurried additional troops to the border with ammunition and supplies.

Czechoslovakia, farther removed from the storm center, watched with anxiety and prepared for possible military action.

At Prague, it was confirmed that Bulgaria was partly mobilizing, in defiance of the treaty which ended that country's participation in the World War. A bad impression has been created in other Balkan capitals by this knowledge.

At Belgrade, the crown council decided immediately what volunteers have been enrolled to excess of the number allowed by the treaty of Neuilly. The Zankof Ministry, struggling to put down a growing peasant counter-revolt, has appealed for more enlistments.

Former Premier Stamboulsky, overthrown by the Zankof coup d'etat Saturday, still is variously reported dead, captured, surrounded and leading a strong band of peasants and hill tribesmen towards Sofia.

One, at least of Bulgaria's neighbors is reported to have greeted the success of "whites" headed by the Professor-Premier, with enthusiasm. Hungary is reported to have secretly called up the classes of 1900, 1901 and 1902.

A report this afternoon was to the effect that the youthful King Boris and King Ferdinand were the main instigators of the revolution that deposed Stamboulsky. The latter's anti-royalist tendencies were feared by the Bulgarian monarchs to conceal intentions to effect a confederation of Bulgaria with Serbia.

Cologne, June 13.—Many disorders are reported, in the Ruhr. French troops shot a woman near Berne, according to advices. Acts of sabotage on railway lines and telephones occurred in several cities.

STAGE STAR AND BANKER SEPARATE.

Elsie Ferguson and Thomas B. Clark, Jr.

There has been much speculation as to whether the separation of Elsie Ferguson, noted beauty of the stage and screen, from her husband, Thomas B. Clark, Jr., vice-president of the Harriman National Bank, New York, will be followed by divorce proceedings or other legal action. The couple have three children. Their seven years of married life were thought to have been ideally happy—one of the few romances of the stage which prospered. Their marriage in 1916 was a social event. Rumor has been current for some time that the actress and her husband were having difficulties.

Loyal Citizens Appealed To To Attend Meeting Of C. of C. Next Friday Night

I appeal to the patriotic citizens of Mexia to support the Chamber of Commerce during the fiscal year beginning June 1st, 1932 to May 31st, 1934.

I realize, as never before, the need of concerted action on the part of Mexia business men and, while my interests are to an extent transferred to another city, my heart interest is still in Mexia, and I urge every patriotic and public spirited business man and citizen to remember the Open Meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at the Hurdston hotel, Friday night, June 15th at 8:15 and that each citizen make it a point to attend.

Respectfully,
Geo. E. Petty, Pres.,

was greatly appreciated. Responding to the encore given, she sang "A Perfect Day," a fitting number for the banquet occasion.

Following the addresses made by Mayor Watson and A. Garland Adair, Mr. Hughes was called upon for a speech. He responded in his own frank and friendly way. At the outset, he said "Hello, folks," which won a round of applause. He expressed the deep appreciation he felt and which Mrs. Hughes felt on the occasion, modestly commenting on the fine things that had been said about him. He urged upon the citizens the necessity of their cooperation, if they would see the city of Mexia grow in the future as it should.

"Let's not go backward," he said, urging that if the men of Mexia would supply cooperate and continue to perform their duties as citizens that they would prevent the city from going backward and could put over anything for this community they desired.

The cafeteria was charmingly decorated for the occasion by various

Families Are Fleeing To Places Of Safety

DALLAS, June 13.—Floods swept across Oklahoma and Arkansas today, threatening the greatest devastation in twenty years.

Thousands of families already made homeless and raging rivers carried away homes in the lowlands and caused other damage in Tulsa, Kew City and northern Oklahoma.

Families in the low lands near Fort Smith and Little Rock fled for safety and the highest water mark since 1892 is anticipated in the Arkansas river.

Rail communication with the flood zone is paralyzed and highways are impassable.

Wheat and other crops are seriously damaged.

Tulsa reported the worst flood in its history. Four thousand are homeless there.

TULSA, Okla., June 13.—With over 4,000 homeless, and no immediate prospects of the Arkansas river receding the flood situation was growing more terrible every hour here.

The prediction this morning from A. M. Hutchinson, United States Weather observer was that the river will continue to rise until a flood stage of 21 feet has been reached. The damage stage is 14 feet.

At one o'clock this morning the City Water Works plant was out of commission and the whole of Tulsa is without fire protection.

The water was cut off from all the mains.

At seven this morning, the river reading was 20 feet, and still rising at the rate of two inches an hour.

Twenty five square miles of thickly populated territory is inundated.

Legislature Is For Prohibition

AUSTIN, June 13.—With prohibition receiving setbacks in various parts of the country, the Texas House of Representatives yesterday adopted the Stroder and Howeth bill a drastic aid to the Dean prohibition enforcement law.

The Stroder and Howeth bill makes it a felony with a penalty from $5 to $99 years imprisonment to manufacture, barter, sell, or give away liquor which is capable of producing bodily harm "when drunk in reasonable quantity as a beverage."

The resolution deploring the action of the New York legislature in repealing the liquor laws, was today adopted by the House. The resolution also places the House on record as favoring rigid enforcement and cooperation between state and federal agents.

The House passed the Senate bill making it a felony to traffic in drugs while armed. The penalty is one to ten years.

Miss Mary Porter Travis will leave Wednesday afternoon for Corsicana where she will visit her friend, Mrs. Cora McKenna of that city.

Ladies of the city, headed by Mrs. Jack Womack. The work of the ladies contributed much to the pleasures of the occasion.

Ben Stollenwerck, Secretary of the Mexia Chamber of Commerce, of which Mr. Hughes is one of the directors and an energetic member, had his hands full Tuesday night and also for two days or more before making arrangements for the elaborate affair.

Ticket selling committees also passed among the citizenship thus cooperating in making of the banquet to their fellow citizen and appreciated townsmen a success of the most brilliant type.

Hughes Banquet Greatly Enjoyed

Mexia citizens paid their respects to their fellow townsman J. K. Hughes last night in a banquet tendered him and his family at the cafeteria in the new high school building.

More than one hundred men and women assembled for the event which was enjoyed as rare banquet occasion by all who gathered for the affair, in the form of a compliment to this noteworthy citizen who has for the past two years marched with the foremost in the ranks of progress in Mexia and whose success as an oil operator is now known to be most pronounced throughout the Southwest.

"Pat" Patterson was toastmaster for the occasion, directing the program and supervising the entertainment of the event in his own big jolly good natured way.

The Mexia B. P. O. E. band, wearing their new and handsome uniforms were present, furnishing a program of music the like of which has never before been heard here from a local musical organization.

Many were the words of praise accorded the twenty one members present for the grand concert they presented. The band played during most of the banquet, keeping the air filled with music and the environment in the highest of moods until further entertainment fell on the capable shoulders of others on the program. The invocation was pronounced by

Rev. G. T. Reaves of the First Christian church.

Next followed a chorus "A Hot Time" rendered by the entire company. The gathering did pretty well the first time the number was sung and much better the second time. Mr. Patterson wrote the words himself, which were in keeping with the occasion and some said he had the song repeated for his own satisfaction and edification, giving him another chance to admire his production as set to music and sung by his fellow citizens.

Mayor Ernest Watson was next introduced by the toastmaster who in a few well chosen words stated the purpose of the gathering and expressed his admiration personally and officially for the services extended Mexia by J. K. Hughes, especially calling attention to Mr. Hughes' persistent interest in a public city park and to his final generous donation of twelve acres to be used for that purpose.

Miss Lucille Preddy and Mrs. Oscar Denning were next introduced as musicians of whom the city was proud, who accompanied by Mrs. Blake Smith at the piano were to render a duet. Their lovely contribution was so greatly enjoyed that they were called back to present a second, which was repeated by special request of Mrs. Hughes and others present.

At this point Mr. Patterson stated that there had been some confusion as to the next speaker. B. B. Simmonds, of the J. K. Hughes organization had been scheduled to deliver the address of the evening but he had stated that he could not be present. "Yet," Mr. Patterson stated, "he is here this evening and has eaten more than any man present I have seen but," he continued, "at his wish, I am going to call on A. Garland Adair who will make one of his impromptu addresses which he has had only one day's notice to prepare."

Mr. Adair responded, speaking on "J. K. Hughes, The Man."

Blake Smith Jr. was next introduced as one of the classiest little entertainers in the country. He was accompanied by his mother as he performed on the traps and drums.

For an encore, he sang a lively song in a most pleasing style. He was encored for the third number, returning to traps and drums.

Toastmaster Patterson next stated that there was present an after-dinner speaker of note who had consented to speak for a few moments and to give a few numbers of a humorous order, some of which he had given here previously with great success. Such a man, he said, was Dr. David Carson Bayless, Field Secretary of the Humphreys Foundation, who had endeared himself to all who had heard him here in the past.

Dr. Bayless responded happily, proving again, if necessary that his proof was necessary, that he is a dialectician or real talent. His remarks were most thoroughly enjoyed by all present, adding much to the merriment of the occasion.

Mrs. A. Garland Adair was introduced as the last number on the program who presented a vocal solo accompanied by Mrs. Blake Smith on the piano. She rendered the first number in a beautiful manner that

NEW "GUSHER" IN TEAPOT DOME

One of the finest "gushers" in Wyoming has been brought into production on the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve which former Secretary Fall of the Department of the Interior secretly leased to the Mammoth Oil Company, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company, a year ago. The output of the new well is 4,000 barrels of oil a day. Another well of several thousand barrels capacity was brought in several months ago.

The new well was bored on that part of the property which was occupied and held by a detachment of marines last summer to prevent alleged trespassing by a private company. Following the negotiations of the lease by Secretary Fall and its approval by Secretary of the Navy Denby and President Harding, the stock of the Mammoth Oil Company took a sudden upward turn and gained millions in value.

Efforts by Senator Kendrick (Dem. Wyo.) and Senator LaFollette (Rep. Wis) to have the leasing of this naval oil reserve investigated have thus far been fruitless. A resolution seeking to authorize an inquiry has been slumbering in the Senate Committee on Public Lands since last autumn. Senator Smoot (Rep. Utah) is the chairman of this committee.

In the course of a speech condemning this leasing of the last oil reserve of the Navy, Senator Kendrick declared that the Government has lost between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000 by the transaction.

A FLORAL SHOW FOR MEXIA

Now is an opportune time for the ladies of the city to begin making arrangements for a floral show this fall.

Most every city in the state now holds an annual flower show. They have found that such an event is conducive to floral culture all the year round. It means a better understanding of flowers and their method of production. It means that persons who have had little time for beautifying their home premises will spend hours this summer in bringing their floral products to the pre-contest stage of beauty.

Scoffers may find nothing admirable in a bloom surrounded home, but the vast majority can not but feel the aesthetic thrill of beautiful well kept lawns, with appropriate flower beds relieving the monotony of the brilliant green grass.

The Ladies Civic League might do well to think along these lines, too, while considering plans for the beautification of Hughes Park.

J. K. Hughes, The Man

The following address by a Garling Adair on the assigned subject "J. K. Hughes, The Man" was made Tuesday evening at the banquet tendered at the High School Cafeteria by the Mexia friends in honor of J. K. Hughes of this city:

Mr. Toastmaster, honored guests, ladies and gentlemen: I am reminded this evening of an incident that took place some after the recent great war near one of the aviation fields in this country. A Scotchman and his wife visited the flying field one day and closely examined and openly criticized one of the magnificent planes in view. He pointed out this mistake and that error as he examined the ship, seeming to know more about airplanes than the man who invented it and the man who operated it as well. His criticisms and comments provoked the flyer almost beyond endurance. Finally the Scotchman asked him what he would carry him and his wife up for. The aviator told him fifteen cents each and the two for thirty cents. The Scotchman thought that was too much and offered twenty five cents for a ride for the two together. After some further discussion, the aviator told him that if he would take his seat and not offer any criticism, he would let him how to drive the plane and not say a word on the trip that he would carry the two up for a quarter. The trade was made. They went up and did the tall spin the nose dive, cut a figure eight and everything else known to modern aviation. Then they floated smoothly down to the ground.

comeliness of Mr. Hughes and myself. Mr. Hughes is renowned for simply being a man, while I am becoming famous, as are you, my fellow citizens, simply because we are fellow citizens of J. K. Hughes.

We have assembled here this evening to play like we were just children. You know we are just grown up children. You know when you go out to play like you were keeping store and the girls play like they were keeping house. You say: "Play like you were married and I'll play like I was your son." Now Mr. Hughes has got to play like he doesn't know whether he is appreciated or not by Mexia citizens and through me and through your presence and part in the evening's affair, we have got to show him that he and his family rank high in the estimation of this citizenship and are appreciated even beyond words for their worth as citizens of this community and not for their worth in oil stock and homes and worldly goods.

If it were necessary to relate the services of the esteemed guest this evening as they have been rendered in a most unselfish degree to Mexia his dearly beloved home city, there would arise in our minds the question of whether he had really done anything worthy and worth while. His public benefactions are well known. He needs no words of praise. He needs monument to perpetuate his memory. Mexia, itself, is his monument which he has helped large in building.

It is not at all out of place, however, to remind Mr. Hughes again that in the city park that he has donated to Mexia and in the many other good things that are Mexia's through his thoughtfulness and generosity, he has become master of forces which will mean an immediate great benefit to this growing municipality. We recognize in you a benefactor not without honor at home. The sweetest outcome of it will be the great influence for good in society when our children go out and live up to your standards of truth and to the precepts of virtue and unselfish service to others and taught in your life among us.

A man once caught an eagle when it was young, and clipped its wings and threw it into the barnyard; there it pecked for its food as the fowls of the yards were accustomed to do. One day a man looking at it said: "Why, you have an eagle in the yard!" and going up to it, he lifted it as high as he could reach. If perchance it might remember that it was an eagle, but when his hand was withdrawn, the great bird fell back, pecking for its food. Upon the following morning he took that bird early to the very top of the barn and held it high as the sun was rising in the East, and said he, "that great bird turned its eyes toward the rising sun and blinked as the rays of the sun fell upon them, and then it turned its head toward the hills where its home had been, and, flapping its wings and flew away." It was an eagle again.

O, sir, when we turn our eyes back to your record, it makes us determined as your fellow citizens will hereafter so conduct ourselves that we may hand down to future Mexia citizens what we have received from you and others of your ilk, saved because of our possession of it, untainted in its honor and unweakened in its power. Our spiritual vision and spiritual power are to be great for your services and because you passed this way.

In the life and example of J. K. Hughes, the man we are reminded of the essential characteristics of the kind of men that it takes to make a municipality, a state or a nation.

The man to make a city and country first must be an intelligent man. I do not mean that he must be universally trained and have college degrees after his name. I refer to that education reflected in the vision and intelligence of common sense, plain old horse sense such as Mr. Hughes modestly professes only to have.

The man to make a city or country must next be a man of honesty. A man whom kings cannot purchase, square in his dealings, just in his relations, truthful in speech and a man who will not lie. We have found this characteristic in the guest of the evening.

The man to make a city or state must next be a man of obedience. He must be a man obedient to law, obedient to duty and obedient to leadership. How often has this characteristic in Mr. Hughes been emphasized in his relations as a citizen of Mexia. He has frequently stressed that he was as good a follower as folks claimed him to be a leader. The man to make a city must first know how to control himself. Obedience is the health of human hearts. Without obedience there can be no success in any phase of human life.

The man to make a municipality or a nation too, must be a man of self denial and unselfishness. The willow dallies in the water and draws up to it its waves in continual pulses of refreshment and delight, and it is a willow still. An acorn is loosened some autumnal morning by a squirrel's foot. It falls to rest in a nest in some rude cleft of a rock perhaps, with scarcely enough earth to cover it. It finds no shelter and feels no shade. It grapples with the rock. It asks no favors nor gives none. It rises. It is an oak. It has been seventy years an oak and it will be an oak seven times seventy years, unless some man of war is needed to thunder at a foe that seeks to plant a flag on the shore where freemen dwell. Then you do not look to the weeping willow. You take the oak. The guest this evening is a man who has grappled with the hard problems of life and through self denial and unselfish service he has become a strong magnificent specimen of citizenship.

I agree with the Mayor who has just said that to Mr. Hughes, however, should not go all the credit for that which he is. I would in conclusion pay a tribute to Mrs. Hughes, his help mate, his companion, his co-worker, his better half. There are many beautiful and wonderful things in this grand world. There are crystal rivers leaping all over themselves. There are mountains covered in their eternal beauty, grandeur wrought by the hand of God. There are oceans and continents, the heavens and the sun rising in resplendent beauty. But no work of man or man's creation can compare to the beauty and wonder of a good, noble, pure and helpful American woman.

S. M. U. Gets Big Donation From The Rockefeller Board

DALLAS, Texas, June 12.—The Southern Methodist university has been awarded $15,000 for the current year by the Rockefeller General Educational Board, according to word received here.

Though not entirely unexpected, the announcement relieved much anxiety on the part of university officials, who were not assured that the appropriation would be forthcoming this year. Dr. Selecman, president of the university, explained that three years ago when former President H. A. Boaz and Vice-President H. M. Whaling, Jr., of S. M. U. started the drive for $1,000,000 endowment, the Rockefeller Board promised to give one third if the school raised two-thirds. The board further agreed to give the interest on its $333,333 to the school during the two years of campaign.

Business depression, said Selecman, prevented collection of S. M. U.'s share of the million within the prescribed two years and this year it was up to the Board to decide whether or not to continue the gift of the interest.

SMART STYLES FOR SUMMER GIRL MARKED BY SIMPLICITY

FOR GOLF

SHAPED IN WEAVING

CHICAGO—The informal days are here—the days when gowns for all hours and occasions are simple, when gloves may be discarded, daytime sleeves worn shorter, and ankles permitted to ignore utterly the suggestion of vanishing with which they flirted through the winter.

It is amazing what the interest in outdoor sports has done to women's clothes," said an authority on women's styles. "Evening gowns for summer resorts have practically disappeared and it is increasingly difficult to tell morning and afternoon frocks apart.

"One charming gown that does duty for all day is a simply cut, one-piece frock of violet, cotton crepe with a straight band of white crepe around the neck, the loose three-quarter sleeves turned back with a fold of the frock material, and a little white pocket on the left side of the blouse, with the wearer's monogram embroidered in coarse violet silk. The gown is fastened down the left side and finished with a wide hem.

"The low narrow giraffe is of silver and imitation amethysts. With this gown is worn a long narrow silk scarf in two shades of violet, a little soft white hat with a draped band of violet silk, white mercerized drop-stitch Burson hosiery, shaped in the weaving without a seam so that they fit snugly at the ankle, and low-heeled strapped white shoes.

"The same white mercerized, drop-stitch hose and white shoes strapped with red are worn with a very fetching red and white sports suit.

"Black mercerized hose with widely separated stripes of drop-stitch are seen frequently; with fancy black shoes for afternoon wear."

Married—Last night at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hall, Miss Sallie Lou Hall and Mr. Robert L. Capell were joined together in the holy bonds of matrimony, Rev. J. A. Ward officiating. Only a few neighbors and near relatives were present to witness the ceremony, but all Mexia will join in extending congratulations and best wishes to the happy young couple.

Bulgarian Band Sweeps Down on New Government

BELGRADE, June 12.—Sweeping down upon Sofia from the northern hills, fierce peasant bands numbering between ten and fifteen thousand are launching a strong counter revolutionary movement against the new Zankof Government, according to dispatches from the Bulgarian Capital.

Roughly clad, hard riding hill tribes have joined the standard of the deposed Stamboulisky, and threaten to topple the three-day revolutionary regime before it is fairly established.

Jugo-Slav political circles understand that the counter-revolution is likely to succeed. Already Stamboulisky's followers outnumber the forces of the Zankof Government and the peasant movement that can claim 35 per cent of all Bulgaria if it is successful appears due to return to power.

King Boris youthful Bulgarian monarch, who gave the new ministry his approval, is likely to lose his throne and possibly his head, if the peasant drive reaches the Capital. For it is now understood he conspired with the conspirators who overthrew Stamboulisky.

The former Premier, who always dominated the young King, telling him he could rule only so long as the peasants wished, learned of the impending revolution some time before Zankof, who heads the revolution broke, it became known today. Provisionary Government, learned his plans had been discovered, and was forced to launch the coup d'etat prematurely.

Forces loyal to the former Peasant Premier are reported to be engaging troops of the new Government in armed conflict in many parts of Bulgaria. The former are heavily armed.

casualties are indicated in scattered dispatches, without any definite number killed and wounded being stated.

The storm center of resistance is in the hills 50 or 60 miles north of the Capital, whence the feared Comitadj bands are said to be advancing on Sofia.

Peasant bands are conducting guerrilla warfare, cutting communications by wire and rail and rendering 17,000 Zankof troops that oppose them, impossible massed movement by the Serbs fearing the flame of counter-revolution may spread, is reinforcing her border patrols, as well as garrisons at Piro and Uskub.

TEXAS PUBLIC SCHOOLS

From S. M. N. Marrs,
State School Sup't.
Austin, Texas.

There is considerable interest being manifested by the public with reference to the adequate support of public education. I wish to call attention to the following quotation from Section 3, Article XII, of the State Constitution:

"One-fourth of the revenue derived from the State occupation taxes and a poll tax of one ($1.00) dollar on every inhabitant of the State, between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years, shall be set apart annually for the benefit of the public free schools; and in addition thereto, there shall be levied and collected an annual ad valorem State tax of such an amount not to exceed thirty-five cents on the one hundred ($100) dollar valuation as with the available school fund arising from all other sources, will be sufficient to maintain and support the public schools of this State for a period of not less than six months in each year."

This clearly sets forth the fact that it is the duty of the STATE to MAINTAIN and SUPPORT the schools for a period of SIX MONTHS each year, and such support as may be given by local districts is supplemental in order that schools may have longer terms and better equipment. If all of the State fund is used for teachers' salaries, how much per capita should be apportioned to comply with the Constitutional requirement?

If the public schools are efficient, competent teachers must be employed. Such teachers should certainly command a salary of one hundred dollars per month. No teacher should have an enrollment of more than thirty-three children if the best work is accomplished. On this basis the per capita cost for teaching service alone is three dollars per month and when the state makes a per capita apportionment of thirteen dollars it pays for but little more than four months.

At the beginning of the regular session of the Thirty-eighth Legislature I urged that provision be made for a minimum per capita apportionment of fifteen dollars, and the House of Representatives by a large majority adopted a resolution to the effect that sufficient revenue should be provided to make this apportionment.

The income for the State available school fund from all Constitutional sources as estimated in August, 1922, justified a per capita apportionment of ten dollars, and the Thirty-eighth Legislature supplemented this fund by appropriating $3,000,000 which permitted the State Board of Education to increase the per capita to thirteen dollars. This is all that can be expected if we have no new revenue measures. As the Constitution provides that the available school fund shall receive one-fourth of all State occupation taxes there will be some increase of the fund by such laws as will stand the test of the courts. The public schools receive no part of the inheritance tax or the tax on automobiles.

If we maintain our past per capita of thirteen dollars we must have provided, by one-fourth of the new occupation taxes and by special appropriation from the general revenue, $3,000,000 per annum or $6,000,000 for the biennium. The public schools must take no backward step.—S. M. N. Marrs.

SHERIFF'S SALE THE STATE OF TEXAS, County of Limestone.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a certain Order of Sale issued out of the Honorable District Court of Limestone County of the 8th day of June, 1923, by the District Clerk, of said Limestone County, for the sum of Forty Five Hundred ($4500) Dollars and costs of suit, under a Judgment and Foreclosure of Vendors Lien, in favor of W. H. Smith, in a certain cause in said Court No. 2058 B, and styled W. H. Smith vs. John R. Williams et al., placed in my hands for service, I, Whit Popejoy, as Sheriff of Limestone County, Texas, did on the 9th day of June, 1923, levy on certain Real Estate, situated in Limestone County, Texas, described as follows:

First Tract: Out of subdivision 28 in the City of Mexia in Limestone County, Texas, beginning at the NW corner of said tract, thence east with its North line 752 feet to the NE corner, thence south with its E. line to the line of the City limits thence south west with the city limit line to the S line of said subdivision 28 Thence west with said S line 564 feet to the SW corner of same, Thence west with the N line of said subdivision 580 feet, to the beginning, containing 9.72 acres.

Second tract: the uncolored portion of subdivision C, division 19 beginning at the NW corner subdivision C Thence east with its N line to the south boundary line of the city limits 430 feet; Thence Southwest with the S line of the city limits to the SW corner said subdivision 770 feet, Thence North along west line of said subdivision 288 feet to the place of beginning, containing 1.33 acres.

Third Tract: 2.9 acres out of sec. 43, P. Varela XI league grant, beginning at a point 280 feet S 4 deg. East from the S side of Hopkins street, Thence N 84 deg. 4 min. east 651 feet, Thence North 4 deg west 387 feet to the city limits. Thence with said city limits line 770 feet to the place of beginning; and levied upon as the property of John R. Williams, and that on the first Tuesday in July, 1923, the same being the 3rd day of said month, at the Court House door, of Limestone County, in the town of Groesbeck, Texas, between the hours of 10 A.M. and 4 P. M., by virtue of said levy and said Order of Sale and Vendors Lien, I will sell said above described Real Estate at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of said John R. Williams et al.

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in The Mexia Daily News, a newspaper published in Limestone County.

Witness my hand, this 8th day of June, 1923.

Marlin Wins The Last Game Of Series Here Tuesday

Johnson And Leedy Lead In Batting At Game

The swarthy Marlin Bathers headed by the husky Alexander made it two out of three from Hubs Gushers by taking the odd one from them in a swat-fest at Nowlin park, Tuesday afternoon by the score of 12 to 8.

Charlie Gresset was Alex's choice for mound duty and he had the Gushers eating out of his hand for the first three innings but in the fourth they broke loose and hopped on him for three hits that counted for as many runs. In the fifth they put the shanghi sign on him, getting four hits and as many runs which was absolutely too much for the big fellow and he gave way to Munch, a southpaw. Munch had very good luck, allowing but three hits during the remainder of the game although he was pulled in the ninth with two out; Goppert singled, Royster walked and ditto for Butler. Lefty Thomas then took the job and Johnson grounded out retiring the side.

Big Charley Johnson was Hubs' nominee for the fray, but was sent to the showers in the fourth, after allowing seven hits for five counters, in favor of Dave Stovall, who had about the same luck as the others, giving the Bathers five hits that counted for as many scores. "Tiny" Tiner, who held the Bathers to one hit on the previous day went in for Stovall in the eighth and allowed four hits that counted for two markers.

Chatham and Greer hit home runs for Marlin, Greer getting two circuit smashes, both of which bounced over the fence.

Johnson and Leedy led the batting for the Gushers, Johnson getting two doubles with the bases crowded to the almost. Leedy missed a home run by inches when his long liner hit the top of the score board and he went for a double. Stovall got two singles out of two times up. Royster hit a double also.

The Waco Indians are here for three days and the Gushers expect much better results from this series than from the Marlin series although the Indians have a much better team than they had to start the season on. Lefty McCarty will be the likely moundman for the Gushers in the first game.

Greer, second baseman for Marlin, will have to admit that Tuesday is his lucky day and that Nowlin Park is his lucky park, as both of his liners went over the fence for circuit drives.

Alexander pulled a bone when he ordered Butler walked, filling the bases in order to get to Ross Johnson and Ross made up his mind otherwise and smacked one against the boards for a two bagger scoring Gepp, Royster and Butler.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION

NO. 16

Proposing an amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, which relates to taxation and revenues, by adding thereto a new section to be known as

Section 9a, directing the Legislature to provide for the construction, operation and maintenance, under State control, of a State system of public highways; providing for an election for the ratification or rejection of the amendment herein proposed, and making an appropriation to defray the expense of said election.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That there be submitted to the people of Texas, for ratification or rejection at a special election provided for herein an amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, amending said Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding thereto a new section to be known as Section 9a, which shall read as follows:

Section 9a. The Legislature is authorized and directed to provide for the creation, establishment, construction, maintenance and repair of a system of improved highways throughout the State to be under the control of the State; and in order that the State may provide the means, revenues and instrumentalities the establishment and maintenance of such system of highways, the Legislature is empowered to levy and cause to be collected specific excise and ad valorem taxes, in addition to those permitted for other purposes in the Constitution, but such an ad valorem tax shall be imposed only for the purpose of retiring the bonds authorized by vote of the people of this State as provided for hereinafter in this Section. When said system shall have been designated and taken over for the State as provided in Section A hereof, the Legislature is authorized to make provision for the equitable compensation to such counties for the value of such improvements as have been theretofore constructed by the Counties in the State.

Provided, also that save for the State highway system, in all other respects, Counties shall have the right to build, construct and maintain roads, turnpikes, and bridges within their respective boundaries provided the Constitutional provisions relating thereto are not qualified or repealed by reason hereof.

The Legislature, at any Regular or Special Session, is authorized and directed to pass and enact all appropriate legislation necessary to carry out and effectuate the purpose and intent of these Articles.

Sec. 2. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to cause to be issued his necessary proclamation for an election to be held on the fourth Saturday in July, 1923, at which election this amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of this State for adoption or rejection and shall make the publication required by the Constitution and Laws of the State. Said election shall be held under and in accordance with the General Election Laws of the State, and the ballots for said election shall have printed or written thereon in plain letters the following words:

"OFFICIAL BALLOT": "For the amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for a State system of highways." "Against the amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for a State system of highways."

Those voters who favor such amendment shall erase by marking a line through the words "Against the Amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for a State system of highways." Those who oppose such amendment shall erase by marking a line through them, the words, "For the amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for a State system of highways." And the result of the election shall be published and declared according to the majority of the votes cast in such election.

Sec. 3. The sum of Five Thousand Dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the treasury not otherwise appropriated for the purpose of paying the necessary expenses of the proclamation and publication of this amendment and the election to be held hereunder.

S. L. STAPLES,
Secretary of State.

CHRONICLER OF THE NEGLECTED TRUTH

10,000 YEARS To Make The Flapper

Cave girl, daughter of Eve—stripped of her jazz and her bold frivolity, what's the modern flapper really like?

Has she a head, and does she use it? Is she daring, unselfish, resourceful?

De Mille showed you one side of the modern girl in "Manslaughter." Here's the other, the better side.

The story of a millionaire's family—romance-seeking young wife, money-seeking husband, thrill-seeking daughter—and the fascinating "other man" who forced their restless lives to a dramatic crisis.

Told in De Mille's most sumptuous style. With the greatest De Mille cast and the most amazing settings ever assembled.

More Than One Hundred Million Pounds of Food and Seed Grain a Month Has Been Shipped to Russia for Famine Aid

No single figure can give a better idea of the magnitude of the operation of the American Relief Administration than the tonnage of food supplies and seed grain that it has shipped to the American producer and shipped in American bottoms since the beginning of its operations late in August, 1922. In less than 18 months that figure was very close to one million tons, or two billion pounds. The exact tonnage was 912,171 up to March 26, 1923, which, reduced to pounds, would give 1,824,242,000, or an average of more than one hundred million pounds a month.

This represents the shipment of foodstuffs and seed only and does not include fifteen million pounds of medical and hospital supplies or nearly a million and a half dollars' worth of clothing which the American Relief Administration also shipped from America as a part of its Russian Relief program during the same period.

The food supplies and seed grains required 237 different ships and the does not take into account the numerous trans-shipments from Danzig and Hamburg to Russian ports by smaller vessels, nor num-ous shipments from the United States in small lots by liners. Sixty-nine different ships carried the medical supplies and the cost of transportation and handling of the medical supplies alone, which was covered by a single contribution, was $287,400.

The estimated resources mobilized

from all quarters by the American Relief Administration under the direction of Herbert Hoover, for distribution in Russia under its agreed control will, up to the close of the present program after the coming harvest, amount to upwards of $66,000,000. No money went out of the country.

CHANGE OF LIFE OFTEN CAUSES HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Women between the ages of 40 to 50 undergo a physiological change that creates disturbance of all the vital organs. Under this condition waste matter that ordinarily passes out of the body is absorbed into the blood poisoning the system generally. Many women during this trying period become victims of High Blood Pressure, Dizziness, nervousness, hot flashes, palpitation of the heart, oppressive fullness in the chest and labored breathing on slight exertion are among the first indications of high blood pressure. If unchecked, the whole system loses tone, one's life is shortened and there is danger that death may come suddenly through apoplexy.

High blood pressure is in itself an indication that the body is clogged and choked with poisonous wastes. Before relief can be had these wastes must be eliminated.

A well-known physician working for years finally discovered a harmless formula that assists Nature in driving out these poisons. With the poisons gone the blood pressure is reduced quickly and a general feeling of well being is experienced almost immediately.

This physician's treatment has been so universally successful that it has now been put up in convenient tablet form under the name Bi-a-lin, and is sold by all good druggists with a guarantee to return your full purchase price if the very first bottle does not give you wonderful relief. Rid yourself of these distressing symptoms now. Don't wait. Delay may be fatal. Get the Bi-a-lin prescription today from any good druggist.

For sale in Mexia by Mexia Drug Company and Anderson & Gilliland (adv).

J. F. Denning returned Tuesday night from Greenville where he attended the funeral of W. L. Beckham. Jess says the entire northern part of Texas is covered with water from the recent rains—that we did not get any of.

Y. W. A. of the Baptist church will hold a Bible story and play-house, at the Library, every Tuesday afternoon from 4:30 to 5:30, for children from 7 to 13 years of age. Refreshments will be served.

Miss Melba Petty accompanied by Miss Dorothy Moore left Wednesday morning for Shreveport, La., where they will visit in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. and A. M. Wilder.

CIVIL WAR BREAKS OUT IN BULGARIA

Floods Continue To Sweep The Neighboring States

Willard Saves Many Lives In Water Battle

PONCA CITY, Okla., June 13.—Big Jess, Willard was victor in another terrific battle today. Not a contest in the roped arena facing a single opponent under glaring calcium lights; but struggling blindly in the darkness, surrounded by terror-stricken live stock, against surging waters of Salt Fork river which roared across the famous 101 Ranch near here during the last three days.

Willard, who arrived at the Miller ranch last Saturday, was to have given an exhibition of his "come-back," but the Salt Fork river intervened, turning the celebration site into a sea of water and shifting sand.

Torrential rains throughout Kansas during last week sent a wall of water rushing into Oklahoma. The Salt Fork river, usually a placid shallow channelled stream, surged down upon the 101 Ranch swirling about the ranch buildings early Sunday morning.

Women and children, families of the ranch hands, were marooned in their homes by the on-rushing waters and facing death in the rising flood, according to Colonel Joe Miller.

"Willard, a guest at the ranch, was one of the first into the water, carrying women and children to higher ground. No lives were lost," Miller told the United Press. "He worked from three o'clock Sunday morning until past midnight. After the women and children were safe, Jess turned his attention to the terror-stricken livestock, which were swimming frantically about their enclosures to escape drowning.

"In one instance," Miller declared, "there were several horses entangled in a barbed wire fence, slowly drowning. Jess went as close in a boat as he could and then slipped into the water and cut the horses free, enabling them to swim to safety."

"It took quick work frequently," Willard declared, "and there were many narrow escapes."

"What hurt me most of all," Willard told the United Press, "was to see the helpless horses and other livestock swimming about everywhere without being able to help them. They would swim close to the boats at times and their eyes would be so pleading that I was tempted many times to go after them, although it would have been futile," he declared solemnly.

Several thousand purebred hogs and many registered cattle and other livestock were swept away. Property damage and live stock loss is estimated at $500,000 by Colonel Miller.

Gave Wrong Envelop To Youts, And Is Now Short $31.50

RANGER, Texas, June 13.—From now on Assistant Chief of Police Leonard Davenport won't be in such a hurry to rush people out of town, that is if past experiences mean anything to him.

So long ago he arrested two youths when he saw them trying to drive off in an automobile. He kept them in jail for the night and the next morning when one of the boys confessed they were taking the car without the owner's consent Davenport let them go after first exacting a promise that they would leave town immediately. Finding them broke, however, he sent them over to a cafe and bought them breakfast.

After they had gone he discovered an envelope which he thought had been taken from one of the youths the previous night. He rushed to the cafe and gave them the envelope and admonished them not to waste time in leaving the city.

That night when he was checking up with the night sergeant he found a $1.50 shortage. After much search he found another envelop which was the

Dr. Murray Bartlett

Two members of the senior class at Hobart College, Geneva, New York, were expelled by President Murray at the beginning of commencement exercises there. Degrees were withheld from three others for a period of three months. The students are alleged to have been implicated in the hazing and rioting which turned GeGneva into a bedlam early this month. Lloyd Hyde, of New York City, a victim of the hazing, was severely beaten and hurled down a fifty-foot embankment into Seneca Lake. Lawrence H. Loughrey and Theodore G. Knowles, football stars, both of New York, were those expelled.

Rum Running Treaty Is Proposed By U. S.

Washington, June 13.—The United States has proposed a treaty with foreign powers designed to prevent rum running into this country and settle objections of other powers. The treaty would have two broad objects: It would extend the three mile limit of the sovereignty of the United States to twelve miles in connection with rum running.

It would permit foreign vessels of nations agreeing to the treaty to bring "ration" liquor under seal into American territorial limits for use on the homeward voyage.

Thursday, June 14, has been designated as "Coolidge-Carl Hill Day" at the ball park and the next day, Friday, June 15, will be "Teague-Geppert Royster Day."

This plan has been decided on by the management as a distinct tribute to the members of the squad from these neighboring towns.

The friends of the three are expected to attend the game in large numbers on the date mentioned.

Also, it has been suggested that Mexico business men may close their store on the day mentioned while the game is in progress, not only out of deference for the winning gushers but also as a matter of respect to the neighboring places and the members they have contributed to the local squad.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Secretary Work announced that eighteen reclamation projects in eleven western states, including Texas, would be surveyed with $225,000 appropriated by the last congress for that purpose. Projects on which work will be started immediately include a storage reservoir in the Pecos valley to provide water for use in the canals of Texas.

one he had taken from his "guests." The one he gave the boys contained the money.

Hurriedly he went to the rooming house where the lads had stayed but they had not waited for instructions.

Four Balkan States Call Troops To The Colors This Morning

LONDON, June 13.—Former Premier Stamboulsky of Bulgaria, was killed Tuesday by troops of the new Zankof Government, according to a Central News dispatch from Vienna, quoting Sofia advices.

The report is unconfirmed. Soldiers of the new Government, which was established by a bloodless coup d'etat Saturday, surrounded the former peasant Premier in a forest at Slavovets and killed him after he had attempted resistance at the head of a handful of loyal followers, according to the Central News.

Other dispatches say Stamboulsky's capture, alive is expected momentarily; while others describe with few details what is believed to be a serious counter-revolt.

Bulgaria is believed by officials here to be seething in initial stages of civil war, which a strict censorship prevents what correspondents have penetrated to the Capital, from describing. Only information favorable to the new Government comes direct from Sofia.

Dispatches from Vienna, Athens, and Belgrade still hint at any important counter-revolutionary success by hill tribesmen who were reported yesterday to have pushed close to Sofia, (one unconfirmed report said they had entered the Capital and were conducting a reign of terror.)

ATHENS, June 13.—Four Balkan States called troops to the colors today and rushed reinforcements to their borders.

Urgent measures were instituted to prevent the Bulgarian revolt and counter revolt from spreading.

Mobilization of thousands of fresh troops and extension of civil war, reported from Sofia, caused alarm in Belgrade, Busharest, Thibens and Prague.

In Budapest the Hungarian Capital, on the other hand, it was reported that news of the trouble in Bulgaria had been greeted with rejoicing, and that secret mobilization of three classes had taken place.

Greece today instituted war-time measures to reinforce the Greek-Bulgaria frontier.

Jugo-Slavia called up a thousand Serbian reserve officers and hurried additional troops to the border with ammunition and supplies.

Czecho-Slovakia, farther removed from the storm center, watched with anxiety and prepared for possible military action.

At Prague, it was confirmed that Bulgaria was partly mobilizing, in defiance of the treaty which ended that country's participation in the World War. A bad impression has been created in other Balkan capitals by this knowledge.

At Belgrade, the crown council decided immediately what volunteers have been enrolled to excess of the number allowed by the treaty of Neuilly. The Zankof Ministry, struggling to put down a growing peasant counter-revolt, has appealed for more enlistments.

Former Premier Stamboulsky, overthrown by the Zankof coup d'etat Saturday, still his variously reported dead, captured, surrounded and leading a strong band of peasants and hill tribesmen towards Sofia.

One, at least of Bulgaria's neighbors is reported to have greeted the success of "whites" headed by the Professor-Premier, with enthusiasm. Hungary is reported to have secretly called up the classes of 1900, 1901 and 1902.

A report this afternoon was to the effect that the youthful King Boris and King Ferdinand were the main instigators of the revolution that deposed Stamboulsky. The latter's anti-royalist tendencies were feared by the Bulgarian monarchs to conceal intentions to effect a confederation of Bulgaria with Serbia.

Cologne, June 13.—Many disorders are reported in the Ruhr. French troops shot a woman near Berne, according to advices. Acts of sabotage on railway lines and telephones occurred in several cities.

STAGE STAR AND BANKER SEPARATE

Elsie Ferguson and Thomas B. Clarke Jr.

There has been much speculation as to whether the separation of Elsie Ferguson, noted beauty of the stage and screen, from her husband, Thomas B. Clarke, Jr., vice-president of the Harriman National Bank, New York, will be followed by divorce proceedings or other legal action. The couple have three children. Their seven years of married life were thought to have been ideally happy—one of the few romances of the stage which prospered. Their marriage in 1916 was a social event. Rumor has been current for some time that the actress and her husband were having difficulties.

Loyal Citizens Appealed To To Attend Meeting Of C. of C. Next Friday Night

I appeal to the patriotic citizens of Mexia to support the Chamber of Commerce during the fiscal year beginning June 1st, 1922 to May 31st, 1924.

I realize, as never before, the need of concerted action on the part of Mexia business men and, while my interests are to an extent transferred to another city, my heart interest is still in Mexia, and I urge every patriotic and public spirited business man and citizen to remember the Open Meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at the Hurdston hotel, Friday night, June 15th at 8:15 and that each citizen make it a point to attend.

Respectfully,
Geo. E. Petty, Pres.,

was greatly appreciated. Responding to the encore given, she sang "A Perfect Day," a fitting number for the banquet occasion.

Following the addresses made by Mayor Watson and A. Garland Adair Mr. Hughes was called upon for a speech. He responded in his own frank and friendly way. At the outset, he said "Hello, folks," which won a round of applause. He expressed the deep appreciation he felt and which Mrs. Hughes felt on the occasion, modestly commenting on the fine things that had been said about him. He urged upon the citizens the necessity of their cooperation, if they would see the city of Mexia grow in the future as it should. "Let's not go backward," he said, "urging that if the men of Mexia would simply cooperate and continue to perform their duties as citizens that they would prevent the city from going backward and could put over anything for this community they desired.

The cafeteria was charmingly decorated for the occasion by various

Hughes Banquet Greatly Enjoyed

Mexia citizens paid their respects to their fellow townsman J. K. Hughes last night in a banquet tendered him and his family at the cafeteria in the new high school building.

More than one hundred men and women assembled for the event which was enjoyed as rare banquet occasion by all who gathered for the affair, in the form of a compliment to this noteworthy citizen who has for the past two years marched with the foremost in the ranks of progress in Mexia and whose success as an oil operator is now known to be most pronounced throughout the Southwest.

"Pat" Patterson was toastmaster for the occasion, directing the program and supervising the entertainment of the event in his own big jolly good natured way.

Seated to his right were Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Hughes, the honor guests and to his left Colonel Albert E. Humphreys and Dr. David Carson Bayless, Field Secretary for the Humphreys Foundation.

The Mexia B-P-O-E band, wearing their new and handsome uniforms were present, furnishing a program of music the like of which has never before been heard here from a local musical organization. Many were the words of praise accorded the twenty one members present for the great concert they presented. The band played during most of the banquet, keeping the air filled with music and the environment in the best of moods until further entertainment fell on the capable shoulders of others on the program.

The invocation was pronounced by Rev. G. T. Reeves of the First Christian church.

Next followed a chorus "A Hot Time" rendered by the entire company. The gathering did pretty well the first time the number was sung and much better the second time. Mr. Patterson wrote the words himself, which were in keeping with the occasion and some said he had the song repeated for his own satisfaction and edification, giving him another chance to admire his production as set to music and sung by his fellow citizens.

Mayor Ernest Watson was next introduced by the toastmaster who in a few well chosen words stated the purpose of the gathering and expressed his admiration personally and officially for the services extended Mexia by J. K. Hughes, especially calling attention to Mr. Hughes' persistent interest in a public city park and to his final generous donation of twelve acres to be used for that purpose.

Miss Lucille Preddy and Mrs. Oscar Denning were next introduced as musicians of whom the city was proud, who accompanied by Mrs. Blake Smith at the piano were to render a duet. Their lovely contribution was so greatly enjoyed that they were called back to present a second, which was repeated by special request of Mrs. Hughes and others present.

At this point Mr. Patterson stated that there had been some confusion in regard to the next speaker. B. B. Simmonds of the J. K. Hughes organization had been scheduled to deliver the address of the evening but he had stated that he could not be present. "Yet," Mr. Patterson stated, "he is here this evening and has eaten more than any man present I have seen. But," he continued, "at any time, I am going to call on A. Garland Adair who will make one of his impromptu addresses which he has had only one day's notice to prepare." Mr. Adair responded, speaking on "J. K. Hughes, The Man."

Blake Smith Jr. was next introduced as one of the classiest little entertainers in the country. He was accompanied by his mother as he performed on the traps and drums. For an encore, he sang a lively song in a most pleasing style. He was encored for the third number, returning to traps and drums.

Toastmaster Patterson next stated that there was present an after-dinner speaker of note who had consented to speak for a few moments and to give a few numbers of a humorous order, some of which he had given here previously with great success. Such a man, he said, was Dr. David Carson Bayless, Field Secretary of the Humphreys Foundation, who had endeared himself to all who had heard him here in the past.

Dr. Bayless responded happily, proving again, if necessary that further proof was necessary, that he is a dialectician or real talent. His remarks were most thoroughly enjoyed by all present, adding much to the merriment of the occasion.

Families Are Fleeing To Places Of Safety

DALLAS, June 13.—Floods sweep across Oklahoma and Arkansas today, threatening the greatest devastation in twenty years.

Thousands of families already made homeless and raging rivers carried away homes in the lowlands and caused other damage in Tulsa, Kaw City and northern Oklahoma.

Families in the low lands near Fort Smith and Little Rock fled for safety and the highest water mark since 1892 is anticipated in the Arkansas river.

Rail communication with the flood zone is paralyzed and highways are impassable.

Wheat and other crops are seriously damaged.

Tulsa reported the worst flood in its history. Four thousand are homeless there.

TULSA, Okla., June 13.—With over 4,000 homeless, and no immediate prospects of the Arkansas river receding the flood situation was growing more terrible every hour here.

The prediction this morning from A. M. Hutchinson, United States Weather observer was that the river will continue to rise until a flood stage of 21 feet has been reached. The damage stage is 14 feet.

At one o'clock this morning the City Water Works plant was out of commission and the whole of Tulsa is without fire protection.

The water was cut off from all the mains.

At seven this morning, the river reading was 20 feet, and still rising at the rate of two inches an hour. Twenty five square miles of densely populated territory is inundated.

Legislature Is For Prohibition

AUSTIN, June 13.—When prohibition receiving setbacks in various parts of the country, the Texas House of Representatives yesterday adopted the Stroder and Noweth bill a drastic add to the Deary prohibition enforcement law.

The Stroder and Noweth bill makes it a felony with a penalty from 5 to 99 years imprisonment to manufacture, barter, sell, or give away liquor which is capable of producing bodily harm "when drunk in reasonable quantity as a beverage."

The resolution deploring the action of the New York legislature in repealing the liquor laws, was today adopted by the House. The resolution also places the House on record as favoring rigid enforcement and cooperation between state and federal agents.

The House passed the Senate bill making it a felony to traffic in drugs while armed. The penalty is one to ten years.

Miss Mary Porter Travis will leave Wednesday afternoon for Corsicana where she will visit her friend, Miss Cora McKenna of that city.

ladies of the city, headed by Mrs. Jack Womack. The work of the ladies contributed much to the pleasures of the occasion.

Ben Stollenwerk, Secretary of the Mexia Chamber of Commerce, of which Mr. Hughes is one of the directors and an energetic member, had his hands full Tuesday night and also for two days or more before making arrangements for the elaborate affair.

Ticket selling committees also passed among the citizenship thus cooperating in making of the banquet to their fellow citizen and appreciated townsman a success of the most brilliant type.

NEW "GUSHER" IN TEAPOT DOME

One of the finest "gushers" in Wyoming has been brought into production on the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve which former Secretary Fall of the Department of the Interior secretly leased to the Mammoth Oil Company, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company, a year ago. The output of the new well is 4,000 barrels of oil a day. Another well of several thousand barrels capacity was brought in several months ago.

The new well was bored on that part of the property which was occupied and held by a detachment of marines last summer to prevent alleged trespassing by a private company. Following the negotiations of the lease by Secretary Fall and its approval by Secretary of the Navy Denby and President Harding, the stock of the Mammoth Oil Company took a sudden upward turn and gained millions in value.

Efforts by Senator Kendrick (Dem. Wyo.) and Senator LaFollette (Rep. Wis.) to have the leasing of this naval oil reserve investigated have thus far been fruitless. A resolution seeking to authorize an inquiry has been slumbering in the Senate Committee on Public Lands since last autumn. Senator Smoot (Rep. Utah) is the chairman of this committee.

In the course of a speech condemning this leasing of the last oil reserve of the Navy, Senator Kendrick declared that the Government has lost between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000 by the transaction.

A FLORAL SHOW FOR MEXIA

Now is an opportune time for the ladies of the city to begin making arrangements for a floral show this fall.

Most every city in the state now holds an annual flower show. They have found that such an event is conducive to floral culture all the year round. It means a better understanding of flowers and their method of production. It means that persons who have had little time for beautifying their home premises will spend hours this summer in bringing their floral products to the pre-contest stage of beauty.

Scoffers may find nothing admirable in a bloom surrounded home, but the vast majority can not but feel the aesthetic thrill of beautiful well kept lawns, with appropriate flower beds relieving the monotony of the brilliant green grass.

The Ladies Civic League might do well to think along these lines, too, while considering plans for the beautification of Hughes Park.

J. K. Hughes, The Man

The following address by a Garland Adair on the assigned subject "J. K. Hughes, The Man" was made Tuesday evening at the banquet tendered at the High School Cafeteria by the Mexia friends in honor of J. K. Hughes of this city:

Mr. Toastmaster, honored guest, ladies and gentlemen: I am reminded this evening of an incident that took place soon after the recent great war near one of the aviation fields in this country. A Scotchman and his wife visited the flying field one day and closely examined and openly criticized one of the magnificent planes in view. He pointed out this mistake and that error as he examined the ship, seeming to know more about airplanes than the man who operated it and the man who operated it as well. His criticisms and comments provoked the flyer almost beyond endurance. Finally the Scotchman asked him what he would carry him and his wife up for. The aviator told him fifteen cents each and the two for thirty cents. The Scotchman thought that was too much and offered twenty five cents for a ride for the two together. After some further discussion, the aviator told him that if he would take his seat and not offer any criticism, not tell him how to drive the plane and not say a word on the trip that he would carry the two up for a quarter. The trade was made. They went up and did the tail spin the nose dive, cut a figure eight and everything else known to modern aviation. Then they floated smoothly down to the ground.

comeliness of Mr. Hughes and myself. Mr. Hughes is renowned for simply being a man, while I am becoming famous, as are you, my fellow citizens, simply because we are fellow citizens of J. K. Hughes.

We have assembled here this evening to play like we were just children. You know we are just grown up children. You know when you go out to play like you were keeping store and the girls play like they were keeping house. You say: "Play like you were mamma and I'll play like I was your son." Now Mr. Hughes has got to play like he doesn't know whether he is appreciated or not by Mexia citizens and through me and through your presence and part in the evening's affair, we have got to show him that he and his family rank high in the estimation of this citizenship and are appreciated even beyond words for their worth as citizens of this community and not for their worth in oil stock and homes and worldly goods.

If it were necessary to relate the services of the esteemed guest this evening as they have been rendered in a most unselfish degree to Mexia his dearly beloved home city, there would arise in our minds the question of whether he had really done anything worthy and worth while. His public benefactions are well known. He needs no words of praise. He needs monument to perpetuate his memory. Mexia, itself, is his monument which he has helped largely in building.

It is not at all out of place, however, to remind Mr. Hughes again that in the city park that he has donated to Mexia and in the many other good things that are Mexia's through his thoughtfulness and generosity, he has become master of forces which will mean an immediate great benefit to this growing municipality. We recognize in you a benefactor not without honor at home. The sweetest outcome of it will be the great influence for good in society when our children go out and live up to your standards of truth and to the precepts of virtue and unselfish service to others and taught in your life among us.

A man once caught an eagle when it was young, and clipped its wings and threw it into the barnyard; there it pecked for its food as the fowls of the yards were accustomed to do. One day a man looking at it said: "Why, you have an eagle in the yard!" and going up to it, he lifted it as high as he could reach, if perchance it might remember that it was an eagle, but when his hand was withdrawn, the great bird fell back, pecking for its food. Upon the following morning he took that bird early to the very top of the barn and held it high as the sun was rising in the East, and, said he, "that great bird turned its eyes toward the rising sun and blinked as the rays of the sun fell upon them, and then it turned its head toward the hills where its home had been, and, full grown now, with a scream it flapped its wings and flew away." It was an eagle again.

Oh, sir, when we turn our eyes back to your record, it makes us determined as your fellow citizens will hereafter so conduct ourselves that we may hand down to future Mexia citizens what we have received from you and others of your ilk, safer because of our possession of it, untainted in its honor and unweakened in its power. Our spiritual vision and spiritual power are to be great for your services and because you passed this way.

In the life and example of J. K. Hughes, the man we are reminded of the essential characteristics of the kind of men that it takes to make a municipality, a state or a nation.

The man to make a city and country first must be an intelligent man. I do not mean that he must be universally trained and have college degrees after his name. I refer to that education reflected in the vision and intelligence of common sense, plain old horse sense such as Mr. Hughes modestly professes only to have.

The man to make a city or country must next be a man of honesty. A man whom kings cannot purchase, square in his dealings, just in his relations, truthful in speech and a man who will not lie. We have found this characteristic in the guest of the evening.

The man to make a city or state must next be a man of obedience. He must be a man obedient to law, obedient to duty and obedient to leadership. How often has this characteristic in Mr. Hughes been emphasized in his relations as a citizen of Mexia. He has frequently stressed that he was as good a follower as folks claimed him to be a leader. The man to make a city must first know how to control himself. Obedience is the health of human hearts. Without obedience there can be no success in any phase of human life.

The man to make a municipality or a nation too, must be a man of self denial and unselfishness. The willow dallies in the water and draws up to it its waves in continual pulses of refreshment and delight, and it is a willow still. An acorn is loosened some autumnal morning by a squirrel's foot. It falls to rest in a nest in some rude cleft of a rock perhaps, with scarcely enough earth to cover it. It finds no shelter and feels no shade. It grapples with the rock. It asks no favors nor gives none. It risks. It is an oak. It has been seventy years an oak and it will be an oak seven times seventy years, unless some man of war is needed to thunder at a foe that seeks to plant a flag on the shore where freemen dwell. Then you do not look to the weeping willow. You take the oak. The guest this evening is a man who has grappled with the hard problems of life and through self denial and unselfish service he has become a strong magnificent specimen of citizenship.

I agree with the Mayor who has just said that to Mr. Hughes, however, should not go all the credit for that which he is. I would in conclusion pay a tribute to Mrs. Hughes, his help mate, his companion, his co-worker, his better half. There are many beautiful and wonderful things in this grand world. There are crystal rivers leaping all over themselves. There are mountains covered in their eternal beauty, grandeur wrought by the hand of God. There are oceans and continents, the heavens and the sun rising in resplendent beauty. But no work of man or man's creation can compare to the beauty and wonder of a good, noble, pure and helpful American woman.

S. M. U. Gets Big Donation From The Rockefeller Board

DALLAS, Texas, June 13.—The Southern Methodist university has been awarded $15,000 for the current year by the Rockefeller General Educational Board, according to word received here.

Though not entirely unexpected, the announcement relieved much anxiety on the part of university officials, who were not assured that the appropriation would be forthcoming this year.

Dr. Sealeman, president of the university, explained that three years ago when former President H. A. Boaz and Vice-President H. M. Whaling, Jr., of S. M. U. started the drive for $100,000 endowment, the Rockefeller Board promised to give one third if the school raised two-thirds. The board further agreed to give the interest on its $333,333 to the school during the two years of campaign.

Business depression, said Sealeman, prevented collection of S. M. U.'s share of the million within the prescribed two years and this year it was up to the Board to decide whether or not to continue the gift of the interest.

Good Meeting Odd Fellows Tuesday Night

A number of visitors from Teague and Groesbeck, and two from other states, attended the meeting of the Odd Fellows Tuesday night, and witnessed the conferring of the second degree on four candidates. The work was well done by members of the local lodge, assisted by some of the visitors. This is a new lodge—just organized in March last, but it is growing very fast as they have work every meeting night, and the members are taking the proper interest in the organization.

The lodge meets every Tuesday night at Knights of Pythias hall, and visitors are always welcome.

SMART STYLES FOR SUMMER GIRL MARKED BY SIMPLICITY

FOR GOLF

CHICAGO—The informal days are here—the days when gowns for all hours and occasions are simple, when gloves may be discarded, daytime sleeves worn shorter, and ankles permitted to ignore utterly the suggestion of vanishing with which they flirted through the winter.

“It is amazing what the interest in outdoor sports has done to women’s clothes,” said an authority on women’s styles. “Evening gowns for summer resorts have practically disappeared and it is increasingly difficult to tell morning and afternoon frocks apart.”

“One charming gown that does duty for all day is a simply cut one-piece frock of violet crepe with a straight band of white crepe around the neck, the loose three-quarter sleeves turned back with a fold of the frock material, and a little white pocket on the left side of the blouse, with the wearer’s monogram embroidered in coarse violet silk. The gown is fastened down the left side and finished with a wide hem.”

“The low narrow giraffe is of silver and imitation amethysts. With this gown is worn a long narrow silk scarf in two shades of violet, a little soft white hat with a draped band of violet silk, white mercerized drop-stitch Bursen hose, hosiery shaped in the weaving without a seam so that they fit snugly at the ankle, and low-heeled strapped white shoes.

“Black mercerized hose with widely separated stripes of drop-stitch hose and white shoes with fancy black shoes for afternoon wear.”

Married—Last night at the home of the bride’s parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hall, Miss Sallielou Hall and Mr. Robert L. Capell were joined together in the holy bonds of matrimony, Rev. J. A. Ward officiating. Only a few neighbors and near relatives were present to witness the ceremony, but all Mexico will join in extending congratulations and best wishes to the happy young couple.

Bulgarian Band Sweeps Down on New Government

BELGRADE, June 12.—Sweeping down upon Sofia from the northern hills, fierce peasant bands numbering between ten and fifteen thousand are launching a strong counter-revolutionary movement against the new Zankof Government, according to dispatches from the Bulgarian Capital.

Roughly clad, hard riding hill tribes have joined the standard of the deposed Stamboulisky, and threaten to topple the three-day revolutionary regime before it is fairly established.

Jugo-Slav political circles understand that the counter-revolution is likely to succeed. Already Stamboulisky’s followers outnumber the forces of the Zankof Government and the peasant movement that can claim 85 per cent of all Bulgaria if it is successful appears due to return to power.

King Boris youthful Bulgarian monarch, who gave the new ministry his approval, is likely to lose his throne and possibly his head, if the peasant drive reaches the Capital. For it is now understood he connived with the conspirators who overthrew Stamboulisky.

The former Premier, who always dominated the young King, telling him he could rule only so long as the peasants wished, learned of the impending revolution some time before fessor Zankof, who heads the revolution, it became known today. Provisionary Government, learned his plans had been discovered, and was forced to launch the coup d’etat prematurely.

Forces loyal to the former Peasant Premier are reported to be engaging troops of the new Government in armed conflict in many parts of Bulgaria. The former are heavily armed.

casualties are indicated in scattered dispatches, without any definite number killed and wounded being stated.

The storm center of resistance is in the hills 50 or 60 miles north of the Capital, whence the feared Comitadji bands are said to be advancing on Sofia.

Peasant bands are conducting guerrilla warfare, cutting communications by wire and rail and rendering 17,000 Zankof troops that oppose them, impossible massed movement by the Serbia fearing the flame of counter-revolution may spread, is reinforcing her border patrols, as well as garrisons at Piro and Uskub.

Letters from People

TEXAS PUBLIC SCHOOLS

From S. M. N. Marrs,
State School Sup't.
Austin, Texas.

There is considerable interest being manifested by the public with reference to the adequate support of public education. I wish to call attention to the following quotation from Section 3, Article XII, of the State Constitution:

"One-fourth of the revenue derived from the State occupation taxes and a poll tax of one ($1.00) dollar on every inhabitant of the State, between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years, shall be set apart annually for the benefit of the public free schools; and in addition thereto, there shall be levied and collected an annual ad valorem State tax of such an amount not to exceed thirty-five cents on the one hundred ($100) dollar valuation as with the available school fund arising from all other sources, will be sufficient to maintain and support the public schools of this State for a period of not less than six months in each year."

This clearly sets forth the fact that it is the duty of the STATE to MAINTAIN and SUPPORT the schools for a period of SIX MONTHS each year, and such support as may be given by local districts is supplemental in order that schools may have longer terms and better equipment. If all of the State fund is used for teachers' salaries, how much per capita should be apportioned to comply with the Constitutional requirement?

If the public schools are efficient, competent teachers must be employed. Such teachers should certainly command a salary of one hundred dollars per month. No teacher should have an enrollment of more than thirty-three children if the best work is accomplished. On this basis the per capita cost for teaching service alone is three dollars per month and when the state makes a per capita apportionment of thirteen dollars it pays for but little more than four months.

At the beginning of the regular session of the Thirty-eighth Legislature I urged that provision be made for a minimum per capita apportionment of fifteen dollars, and the House of Representatives by a large majority adopted a resolution to the effect that sufficient revenue should be provided to make this apportionment.

The income for the State available school fund from all Constitutional sources as estimated in August, 1922, justified a per capita apportionment of ten dollars, and the Thirty-eighth Legislature supplemented this fund by appropriating $3,000,000 which permitted the State Board of Education to increase the per capita to thirteen dollars. This is all that can be expected if we have no new revenue measures. As the Constitution provides that the available school fund shall receive one-fourth of all State occupation taxes there will be some increase of the fund by such laws as will stand the test of the courts. The public schools receive no part of the inheritance tax or the tax on automobiles.

If we maintain our past per capita of thirteen dollars we must have provided, by one-fourth of the new occupation taxes and by special appropriation from the general revenue, $3,000,000 per annum or $6,000,000 for the biennium. The public schools must take no backward step.—S. M. N. Marrs.

SHERIFF'S SALE

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
County of Limestone.
Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a certain Order of Sale issued out of the Honorable District Court of Limestone County of the 8th day of June, 1923, by the District Clerk of said Limestone County, for the sum of Forty Five Hundred ($4500) Dollars and costs of suit, under a Judgment and Foreclosure of Vendors Lien, in favor of W. H. Smith, in a certain cause in said Court No. 2558 B. and styled W. H. Smith vs. John R. Williams et al. placed in my hands for service, I, Whit Popejoy, as Sheriff of Limestone County, Texas, did on the 9th day of June, 1923, levy on certain Real Estate, situated in Limestone County, Texas, described, to wit:

HOUSTON, Texas, June 13.—One of the first directories of the city of Houston, has been procured by the public library here. The directory was compiled in 1866 by W. A. Leonard and was presented to the library in a collection of books known as the Bonner-McCraven collection.

Other than a list of the citizens, the book contains a map of the city, a street directory, names of the city, county and state officials, provisions of the city charter, a list of courts, railroads, steamboats, churches and societies and an almanac of the year. Names of the city officials from the years 1838 to 1866, are also given in the volume which is less than an inch thick.

City directories for the years 1870 and 1871 were also found in the Bonner-McCraven collection.

Marlin Wins The Last Game Of Series Here Tuesday

Johnson And Leedy Lead In Batting At Game

The swarthy Marlin Bathers headed by the husky Alexander made it two out of three from Hubs Gushers by taking the odd one from them in a swat-fest at Nowlin park, Tuesday afternoon by the score of 12 to 8.

Charlie Gresset was Alex's choice for mound duty and he had the Gushers eating out of his hand for the first three innings but in the fourth they broke loose and hopped on him for three hits that counted for as many runs. In the fifth they put the shanghi sign on him, getting four hits and as many runs which was absolutely too much for the big fellow and he gave way to Munch, a southpaw. Munch had very good luck, allowing but three hits during the remainder of the game although he was pulled in the ninth with two out; Geppert singled, Royster walked and hit for Butler. Lefty Thomas then took the job and Johnson grounded out retiring the side.

Big Charley Johnson was Hubs nominee for the fray, but was sent to the showers in the fourth, after allowing seven hits for five counters, in favor of Dave Stovall, who had about the same luck as the others, giving the Bathers five hits that counted for as many scores. "Tiny" Tiner, who held the Bathers to one hit on the previous day went in for Stovall in the eighth and allowed four hits that counted for two markers.

Chatham and Greer hit home runs for Marlin, Greer getting two circuit smashes, both of which bounced over the fence.

Johnson and Leedy led the batting for the Gushers, Johnson getting two doubles with the bases crowded to the utmost. Leedy missed a home run by inches when his long liner hit the top of the score board and he went for a double. Stovall got two singles out of two times up. Royster hit a double also.

The Waco Indians are here for three days and the Gushers expect much better results from this series than from the Marlin series although the Indians have a much better team than they had to tart the season on. Lefty McCarty will be the likely moundman for the Gushers in the first game.

Greer, second baseman for Marlin, will have to admit that Tuesday is his lucky day and that Nowlin Park is his lucky park, as both of his liners went over the fence for circuit drives.

Alexander pulled a boner when he ordered Butler walked, filling the bags in order to get to Ross Johnson and Ross made up his mind otherwise and snaked one against the boards for a two bagger scoring Gepp, Royster and Butler.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION

NO. 16

Proposing an amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, which relates to taxation and revenues, by adding thereto a new section to be known as

Section 9a, directing the Legislature to provide for the construction, operation and maintenance, under State control, of a State system of public highways; providing for an election for the ratification or rejection of amendment herein proposed, and making an appropriation to defray the expense of said election.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That there be submitted to the people of Texas, for ratification or rejection at a special election provided for herein an amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, amending said Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding thereto a new section to be known as Section 9a, which shall read as follows:

Section 9a. The Legislature is authorized and directed to provide for the creation, establishment, construction, maintenance and repair of a system of improved highways throughout the State to be under the control of the State; and in order that the State may provide the means, revenues and instrumentalities the establishment and maintenance of such system of highways, the Legislature is empowered to levy and cause to be collected specific excise and ad valorem taxes, in addition to those permitted for other purposes in the Constitution, but such an ad valorem tax shall be imposed only for the purpose of retiring the bonds authorized by vote of the people of this State as provided for hereinafter in this Section. When said system shall have been designated and taken over for the State as provided in Section A hereof, the Legislature is authorized to make provision for the equitable compensation to such counties for the value of such improvements as have been theretofore constructed by the Counties in the State.

Provided, also that save for the State highway system, in all other respects, Counties shall have the right to build, construct and maintain roads, turnpikes, and bridges within their respective boundaries and the Constitutional provisions relating thereto are not qualified or repealed by reason hereof.

The Legislature, at any Regular or Special Session, is authorized and directed to pass and enact all appropriate legislation necessary to carry out and effectuate the purpose and intent of these Articles.

Sec. 2. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to cause to be issued his necessary proclamation for an election to be held on the fourth Saturday in July, 1929, at which election this amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of this State for adoption or rejection and shall make the publication required by the Constitution and Laws of the State. Said election shall be held under and in accordance with the General Election Laws of the State, and the ballots for said election shall have printed or written thereon in plain letters the following words:

"OFFICIAL BALLOT": "For the amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for a State system of highways." "Against the amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for a State system of highways."

Those voters who favor such amendment shall erase by marking a line through the words "Against the Amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for a State system of highways." And the result of the election shall be published and declared according to the majority of the votes cast in such election.

Sec. 3. The sum of Five Thousand Dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the treasury not otherwise appropriated for the purpose of paying the necessary expenses of the proclamation and publication of this amendment and the election to be held hereunder.

S. L. STAPLES,
Secretary of State.

CHRONICLER OF THE NEGLECTED TRUTH

10,000 YEARS To Make The Flapper

Cave girl, daughter of Eve—stripped of her jazz and her bold frivolity, what's the modern flapper really like?

Has she a head, and does she use it? Is she daring, unselfish, resourceful?

De Mille showed you one side of the modern girl in "Manslaughter." Here's the other, the better side.

The story of a millionaire's family—romance-seeking young wife, money-seeking husband, thrill-seeking daughter—and the fascinating "other man" who forced their restless lives to a dramatic crisis.

Told in De Mille's most sumptuous style. With the greatest De Mille cast and the most amazing settings ever assembled.

More Than One Hundred Million Pounds of Food and Seed Grain a Month Has Been Shipped to Russia for Famine Aid

No single figure can give a better idea of the magnitude of the operation of the American Relief Administration than the tonnage of food supplies and seed grain that it has shipped to the American people since the beginning of its operations late in August, 1922. In less than 18 months that figure was very close to one million tons, or two billion pounds. The exact tonnage was 912,121 up to March 26, 1923, which, reduced to pounds, would give 1,824,242,000, or an average of more than one hundred million pounds a month.

This represents the shipment of foodstuffs and seed only and does not include fifteen million pounds of medical and hospital supplies or nearly a million and a half dollars' worth of clothing which the American Relief Administration also shipped from America as a part of its Russian Relief program during the same period.

The food supplies and seed grains required 237 different ships and this does not take into account the numerous transshipments from Danzig and Hamburg to Russian ports by smaller vessels, nor numerous shipments from the United States in small lots by liners. Sixty-nine different ships carried the medical supplies and the cost of transportation and handling of the medical supplies alone, which was covered by a single contribution, was $267,400. The estimated resources mobilized from all quarters by the American Relief Administration under the direction of Herbert Hoover, for distribution in Russia under its agreed control will, up to the close of the present program after the coming harvest, amount to upwards of $66,000,000. No money went out of the country.

CHANGE OF LIFE OFTEN CAUSES HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Women between the ages of 40 to 50 undergo a physiological change that creates disturbance of all the vital organs. Under this condition waste matter that ordinarily passes out of the body is absorbed into the blood poisoning the system generally. Many women during this trying period become victims of High Blood Pressure, Dizziness, nervousness, hot flashes, palpitation of the heart, oppressive fullness in the chest and labored breathing on slight exertion are among the first indications of high blood pressure. If unheeded, the whole system loses tone, one's life is shortened and there is danger that death may come suddenly thru apoplexy.

High blood pressure is in itself an indication that the body is clogged and choked with poisonous wastes. Before relief can be had these wastes must be eliminated.

A well-known physician working for years finally discovered a harmless formula that assists Nature in driving out these poisons. With the poisons gone the blood pressure is reduced quickly and a general feeling of well being is experienced almost immediately.

This physician's treatment has been so universally successful that it has now been put up in convenient tablet form under the name Bi-a-lin, and is sold by all good druggists with a guarantee to return your full purchase price if the very first bottle does not give you wonderful relief. Rid yourself of these distressing symptoms now. Don't wait. Delay may be fatal. Get the Bi-a-lin prescription today from any good druggist.

For sale in Mexia by Mexia Drug Company and Anderson & Gilliland. (adv.)
